just because the fda requires trials for drugs doesn't amount to doctors only prescribing for you a drug that is proven to work for your condition - the reality is far from that.

it is a part of our culture that the idea of billing people for healthcare is sickening to us and that's why i don't mind that you where not charged for the services you received.

now, i use it on the lower setting, with the captain dildo and lube and the orgasms are amazingly wonderful.
